

Pierluigi Maneschi is died the marine entrepreneur

One of the great protagonists of the shipping and the logistics in Italy

infomARE - Pierluigi Maneschi is died today to Trieste the marine entrepreneur. Been born 79 years ago to Villafranca, in Lunigiana, Maneschi has been protagonist of some between the revolutionariest operations that have characterized permanently the world of the transports, between which the launch of the greatest terminal Italian container, that of Voltri to Genoa, and the privatization of the historical public company, Lloyd Triestino of the Finmare group.

Shipping agent in a position to prerunning the times of the change at the same time, heading with force at the container, becoming shipping and manager of great harbour terminals and centers of logistic engineering, Pierluigi Maneschi has constructed with the Sisam group that which today is considered the only Italian multinational of the shipping. (inf)

